

Spectropolis

June 15, 2004

Dear [name],

Congratulations! We are delighted to accept your proposal for Spectropolis. We thank you for allowing us the opportunity to review your materials and look forward to working together in the coming months.

Spectropolis Information:

Selected Participants in Spectropolis Exhibition: Julian Bleecker; Sawad Brooks and Phillip Tiongson; Jonah Brucker-Cohen and Katherine Moriwaki; Carlos Gomez de Llarena; Free103Point9; Josh Kinberg; Jeff Knowlton and Naomi Spellman; Karen Lee; Akitsugu Maebayashi; Eric Paulos; Ben Recht and DSP Music Syndicate; Trebor Scholz; and Jeremy Wood.

Leaders of Spectropolis Workshops: Jonah Brucker-Cohen and Katherine Moriwaki; Beatriz da Costa, Jamie Schulte, and Brooke Singer; John Geraci; and Trebor Scholz.

The Spectropolis selection panel: Wayne Ashley, LMCC's curator of new-media and public programs; Kevin Cunningham, Three-Legged Dog; Erin Donnelly, LMCC's associate director of programs; Yury Gitman, Artist; Carol Stakenas, Third Millennium Foundation and formerly of Creative Time; Brooke Singer, Artist.

The dates for the event are October 1, 2, and 3, from 12 noon to 4pm. Projects will be set up and taken down each day. You are expected to arrive at the event each morning at 9am, depending on the setup time for your project.

The Spectropolis curatorial team (Wayne Ashley, Yury Gitman and Brooke Singer) will be arranging individual meetings with participants to take place in person at the Lower Manhattan Cultural Council or via phone in mid-July. These discussions will allow us to offer feedback and receive production progress reports. By August 1st, participants must send final bios, project statements and related images for our print and web publications.

We all look forward to working with you!

Warm regards,
